

January 10, 2017

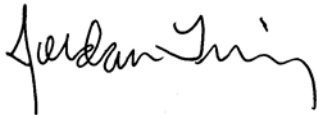

As you may be aware, the Ministry of Education and the BCTF have recently reached an agreement that will add over 1000 teachers to the education system in BC. For Surrey, this means we will soon be hiring well over 100 teachers.

The District and the Surrey Teachers' Association have established a joint committee and are working together to identify our priorities. We anticipate hiring enrolling and non-enrolling teachers in both regular and specialist positions.

Both the District and the Surrey Teachers' Association are hopeful that we can have additional teachers hired and working in the coming weeks.

Surrey is a progressive and exciting district and we are happy to be able to offer a range of new jobs. Please continue to watch our website for further information on hiring processes and timelines and we look forward to seeing many new teachers in Surrey as soon as possible.

Sincerely,

Jordan Tinney
Superintendent of Schools/CEO
