Lindsey is a budding outdoor family adventure photographer based out of Langley, BC. When she is not taking photos or on an adventure herself, Lindsey works as a Pediatric Occupational Therapist, enabling kids to develop the skills they need to grow into functional, independent adults. When working with these children, she incorporates play and adventure into her practice as a way to connect on the child's level and to help develop skills. To say she knows her way around a bunch of playful kids is an understatement. She'll be snapping away on Dogwood Elementary and providing you with photos, so come join in on the fun!

Mini photo sessions will be held outdoors (rain or shine!) and would require you to come 10 minutes prior to your booked time. Please do not believe! Contact the school office and book your time slot on October 12, 15, & 19 at 8:30am and 2:30pm. A $25 non-refundable amount will have to be paid in order to secure the mini session. There are limited number of time slots, so do not delay!

This is a great opportunity to have a family picture just before Christmas! Come and enjoy the outdoors and capture the fall season.
